PER CURIAM: Loudin Rohr appeals his convictions for assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature and criminal domestic violence of a high and aggravated nature, arguing the trial judge erred in allowing the State to inappropriately bolster the testimony of a child witness. We affirm pursuant to Rule 220(b), SCACR, and the following authorities: State v. Kromah, 401 S.C. 340, 362, 737 S.E.2d 490, 501 (2013) (finding error in the admission of improper corroboration testimony may be harmless where there is evidence other than the corroborated testimony, and the error "could not reasonably have affected the result of the trial"); State v. Black, 400 S.C. 10, 27, 732 S.E.2d 880, 890 (2012) ("An appellate court generally will decline to set aside a conviction due to insubstantial errors not affecting the result." (citations omitted)).
