PER CURIAM: Twelve homeowners at Stonecrest Villas of Tega Cay appeal the circuit court's summary judgment in favor of Stonecrest Villas of Tega Cay Condominium Owners Association, Inc., arguing the circuit court erred in (1) finding the Association had the authority to settle its claims for damages to the common elements and extinguish the claims of the homeowners, (2) finding the Association's decision to settle its claims was reasonable under the circumstances, and (3) interpreting the master deed. We affirm pursuant to Rule 220(b), SCACR, and the following authorities: See S.C. Code Ann. § 27-31-100(f) (2007) (requiring the owners of a horizontal property regime to execute and record a master deed containing "[a] description of the full legal rights and obligations, both currently existing and which may occur, of the apartment owner, the co-owners, and the person establishing the regime"); Roundtree Villas Ass'n, Inc. v. 4701 Kings Corp., 282 S.C. 415, 421, 321 S.E.2d 46, 49 (1984) (providing the rights and authority of a horizontal property regime "must be gleaned from the Horizontal Property Act and from the master deed"); Fisher v. Shipyard Vill. Council of Co-Owners, Inc., 409 S.C. 164, 178, 760 S.E.2d 121, 129 (Ct. App. 2014) ("When master deeds and bylaws show a homeowner's association has the obligation to maintain the common elements, the association has a duty to pursue a recovery for any alleged construction defects in the common elements." (citing Queen's Grant Villas Horizontal Prop. Regimes I–V v. Daniel Int'l Corp., 286 S.C. 555, 556, 335 S.E.2d 365, 366 (1985))), cert. granted, (Mar. 19, 2015); Goddard v. Fairways Dev. Gen. P'ship, 310 S.C. 408, 414, 426 S.E.2d 828, 832 (Ct. App. 1993) ("In a dispute between the directors of a homeowners association and aggrieved homeowners, the conduct of the directors should be judged by the 'business judgment rule' and absent a showing of bad faith, dishonesty, or incompetence, the judgment of the directors will not be set aside by judicial action.").
